1. The Santos Dumont District Committee, which is one of the 16 Enterprise and District Committees which the Communist Party of Brazil (PCB) has in the Federal District, controls all the Communist cells in the federal government agencies in that District. In one sense it should be an Enterprise Committee rather than a District Committee, since its jurisdiction is not confined to a particular area; however, it is classified as a District Committee because it does not operate within one particular enterprise, but includes government employees who hold positions in all the ministries and agencies of the federal government. It does not include Communists in certain of the autonomous agencies, such as the Central do Brasil Railroad and the Lloyd Brasileiro.

2. The membership of the Santos Dumont Committee as of 1 December 1953, including new members obtained since April 1953 in the Stalin Recruitment Campaign, is shown as follows:
